

Microneedling Mesotherapy

Microneedling mesotherapy is the most effective method for introducing active substances into various skin layers, depending on the desired effects. Common procedures include anti-aging preparations and tissue stimulators. This minimally invasive treatment improves skin firmness and hydration, and stimulates collagen and elastin production. It's recommended for those noticing early signs of aging or with more advanced concerns. The procedure can target specific areas like the eyes or be applied comprehensively to the face, neck, and décolletage.

Effects:

- Hydration and nourishment of the skin
- Reduction of bags and dark circles under the eyes
- Smoothing of fine lines and deep wrinkles
- Reduction of skin discoloration
- Hair loss reduction and stimulation of hair growth
- Fat tissue reduction and cellulite elimination

The specific preparation for microneedling mesotherapy is chosen during consultation to meet the client's needs. At our clinic, the procedure is performed traditionally or with the advanced Concerto gun, which allows for the injection of substances in various states of matter, ensuring comfort and minimal pain.
